

MAYSVILLE MAY HAVE FIRST CLASS BASEBALL GROUNDS

Local Enthusiasts Take Option on Forest Avenue Race Track and Consider Establishing Track and Baseball Diamonds.

It has just become known that Messrs. Thomas M. Russell and Claude Watkins, local sports enthusiasts, have taken an option on the Forest avenue race track property now owned by Mr. Dale Bryant and that they propose to offer these grounds to the new baseball organization which is now in the course of completion.

A meeting of those interested in baseball and horse racing will be called probably this week for the purpose of presenting the proposition to them for their consideration.

With not so much expense, it is understood that the race track property can be put into splendid condition for a baseball diamond and the old track can be put into such shape that it would make a splendid track. An ideal fair grounds could be established on this property if the persons who will take charge of the property should see fit in the future and in Mason County Fair is something for which the people in this section have been clamoring for some time.

Maysville has proven itself a splendid location for horse races and there is little doubt but that Maysville will this year be represented in league baseball, either in the Bluegrass League or in the K-I-O League. With boosters like Tom Russell and Claude Watkins behind a proposition of this sort, it will certainly prove successful providing the public will stand behind them and give them the sort of support they deserve.

The Globe special measure man will be with us on February 27th and 28th with the new spring samples. Have your suit made to measure. George H. Frank & Co. 14Feb19

LARGE QUANTITY OF LIQUOR FOUND IN HOME

Guards Raid Ft. Thomas Home Finding Liquors and Wine Valued At $25,000.

Newport, Ky., Feb. 22. — By chance a detachment of Kentucky soldiers, on a scouting expedition in Ft. Thomas, found vast quantities of wine, whisky and beer in the home of Fred Scholle, 339 Mt. Pleasant avenue, yesterday afternoon, and made the biggest liquor haul in the history of the campaign to clean up Campbell county.

With the aid of the Ft. Thomas police the soldiers searched the Scholle home and found $25,000 worth of liquor, including sixty-five cases of whisky, four barrels of whisky and the equivalent of six barrels of whisky in loose bottles, seven barrels of beer and seven cases of beer, three barrels of wine, fifteen gallons of grain alcohol, three boxes of federal stamps and a number of whisky labels of various kinds.

It was while the soldiers were passing through the town that they gathered information that led to the raid and, aided by Louis Cook, chief of the Ft. Thomas police and several of his men, they located the home of Scholle a retired saloon keeper.

Surrounding the house they closed in and searched the premises. Almost every room they entered yielded a rich harvest, the soldiers said. Beer, whisky and wine seemed to be stored everywhere apparently in unlimited quantities.

VICTIMS OF GREAT AIRSHIP TRAGEDY NEVER HAD CHANCE

Thirty-four Persons Killed and Many Injured When Greatest Air Ship Collapsed and Fell a Burning Mass.

Army Supply Base, Hampton Roads Va., Feb. 22. — A charred skeleton of twisted metal splashed with bits of frayed hunting mark the spot where 34 persons died in the crash of the semi-rigid dirigible Roma, the greatest airship ever built in the world.

There are 11 survivors of the crash and the terrible fire that made a funeral pyre of the trapped victims. Those of the survivors able to talk today blamed the catastrophe upon broken elevating controls and a Liberty motor that "went dead." The Roma was making its first test flight after Liberty motors had replaced the original Italian engines.

Out of the maze of counter-stories it was apparent today that the crew and passengers of the Roma for the most part "never had a chance." Trapped beneath the falling envelope of the bag, they were blasted into blackened, stove-cold corpses in the first great explosion that followed the crash.

The handful who escaped either dove from the cabins just before the crash or else landed in deep gullies that criss-crossed the field upon which the Roma landed. These gullies provided protection from the blast for a few. The bodies of the dead, some of them charred beyond hope of recognition, lie in a tiny moraine at Newport News, Va., across the bay from the scene of the catastrophe.

Three investigations into the crash are being conducted by Major General Patrick, chief of the Army Air Service, who came from Washington by airplane; by Lieutenant Colonel Arthur G. Fisher, netting commandant at the flying field, who ordered the Roma "up" on its last flight, and by Major F. L. Kennedy, summary court officer, who is the army "coroner." Major Kennedy announced today he would swear in a jury and hold an inquest today or tomorrow.

CHIROPRACTOR BILL IS PASSED IN HOUSE

Removes Practitioners From Jurisdiction of State Health Board.

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 21. — By the narrow margin of 44 to 42 the House of Representatives this afternoon passed the Chiropractor Bill, providing for a special board of examiners for practitioners of that profession, taking them from under the jurisdiction of the State Board of Health.

The board, which opposed the bill will carry the fight to the Senate, where it hopes to defeat it. Dr. J. N. McCormack spoke against it before the House, and Dr. R. G. Dunn, a Louisville chiropractor, advocated it. Representative H. C. Duffy of Harrison county introduced the bill and spoke for it, while the floor fight against it was led with vigor by Representative R. O. Huntman of Allen county, a Republican.

Opponents of the bill introduced fifteen amendments, most of which mentioned other branches of the healing sciences, such as osteopathy, and provided boards of examiners for them. "This amendment is meant to kill the bill," said Mr. Duffy each time and they were voted down.

Dr. Geo. P. Lambert, local Chiropractor, has been in Frankfort for the past week, assisting to engineer the bill through the legislature.

BIG CROWD EXPECTED AT IRONTON MEETING

Large Number of Road Boosters From Hamilton County to Attend Big Meeting.

The Cincinnati Commercial Tribune says:

Preparations were started Tuesday by the Chamber of Commerce and several other organizations to organize a large party to attend the tri-state meeting of good roads enthusiasts at Ironton March 7 and 8, when the question of improving the route of the Atlantic-Pacific Highway through Ohio, Kentucky and West Virginia will be discussed.

Announcement that the meeting would be held on March 7 and 8 was made Tuesday following receipt of a letter from H. A. Russell, President of the Atlantic-Pacific Highway Association, saying he could be in attendance on those days.

Efforts are to be made to have a party of at least fifty good road enthusiasts from Hamilton county attend the meeting. A meeting of the Highway Committee of the Chamber of Commerce will be called to work out details of the trip. Tentative plans call for several special cars for the party, which will leave here for Ironton the morning of the opening day of the meeting.

WOULD EXEMPT ALL NEWSPAPERS FROM LOCAL TAXATION

Senator Asks That Probe of State Health Board Be Made—Newspapers Placed in Category of Manufacturing Plants.

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 21. — A resolution for an investigation of the State Board of Health was offered in the Senate today by Senator Frank E. Daugherty of Nelson county.

Judge Daugherty introduced the resolution with a view of checking up receipts and disbursements.

He said that he was not offering the resolution as a criticism, but because he believed that the legislators should be acquainted with the finances of a board which receives the amount of money that the State Board of Health does from the State, the Government and other sources. The commission would consist of three Senators and three Representatives.

The Thompson tax bill was read into the calendar without a fight, but it is understood that opposition to the measure as it now stands will develop when it is brought up for passage.

Newspapers and printing houses should be classified by the state as they are classified by the Federal Government, Senator H. V. Bell of Anderson county declared in advocacy of his bill to exempt their plants from local taxation.

Senator Paul Garner of Breckinridge county declared he thought it an attempt to allow large, financially strong concerns "to dodge taxes."

Mr. Bell replied that newspapers are manufacturing plants and that he did not see how anyone of intelligence could oppose the bill.

Senator Frank E. Daugherty of Nelson county advocated the bill, calling attention to the fact that newspapers begin with a raw end and with a finished product. He paid tribute to newspaper men throughout the state and said the bill would lighten the load which the overburdened country newspaper is forced to carry.

Newspapers and newspaper men occupy one of the foremost places in the ranks of education in my opinion."

Senator H. F. Green of Livingston county declared: "I urge every member of the Senate to support the measure."

The count was 33 to 1, Mr. Garner casting the only dissenting vote.

There will be no band practice Wednesday night this being a legal holiday.

NEW BUS LINE MAY BE ESTABLISHED HERE SOON

Local Company May Be Organized to Operate Automobile Passenger and Freight Lines to Nearby Cities.

An Interurban Bus Line may be established between Maysville and nearby cities, it was learned Wednesday that will connect Maysville with all of the important nearby towns. It is the purpose of those who would organize a company to finance such a project to arrange for at least two trips a day between all of the more important towns.

It became known Tuesday that several of our prominent local business men were interested in such a project and were seriously considering the organization of a corporation to finance the purchase of several large automobiles similar to the new auto now being used between this city and Flemingsburg to haul passengers and freight.

Should the fair ground, race track and baseball project now on foot prove successful, it is understood that the concern would use their machines to haul passengers to the proposed new fair grounds as well.

COUNTY JAIL TO UNDERGO THOROUGH REPAIRING AT ONCE

Sawed Bars to Be Welded and Screen of Small Mesh to Be Placed on Every Window to Prevent Outside Communication.

County Judge H. P. Funnell and the County Commissioners have ordered the Mason county jail thoroughly overhauled by thorough mechanics who are today engaged in making necessary repairs to the building.

In the past several deliveries and the attempted delivery which was nipped by officials Tuesday, prisoners have rather badly sawed up the inside of the inside cell bars. Many of the inside cell bars have been sawed while there are several holes in the steel floor and the iron screening on the windows has been badly cut up.

Mechanics are now engaged in welding the broken and sawed iron bars on the cells and in patching the holes in the floor. New iron screening has been ordered for all of the windows of the jail. The screening now used is one inch mesh and the new screening ordered will be one-quarter inch mesh so that nothing can be passed through the meshes. This will no doubt stop all communication from the outside of the building.

Judge Funnell has ordered a complete new set of "bull locks" for the cells so that prisoners can be locked into their cells instead of being permitted to congregate together on both floors of the building.

When all of these improvements are made, the county jail should be as safe as it was when first built.

OUR POLICY:

And likewise to earnestly and consistently oppose all things that are not for the good of the county as a whole.

REPUBLICAN REDUCTION WILL NOT MEAN REPUDIATION.

"Democratic campaign managers are out with boasts that they will redeem some of the Congressional elections they lost in November, 1920. They probably will," says the Republican Publicity Association. "The election of 1920 was an extraordinary outburst of public indignation. We had just gone through eight years of the worst extravagance and waste in the history of any nation. We had endured bureaucracy as it had never been known before. We had witnessed the effort of the Democratic party to force this government to subject itself to the mandates of a superstate—to make the 'supreme sacrifice.' We had seen McAdoo try to pull this country into socialism. We had seen the policies of the government shaped by men who refused to prepare for war when war was impending or to prepare for peace when peace was certain. Naturally there were thousands of Democrats who refused to give even a passive endorsement to such management of the nation's business. It is impossible that the Democratic party will ever again go before the country with as much of a handicap as it had in 1920, and, therefore, it is not at all likely that as many Democrats will ever again vote the Republican ticket.

"But that is not admitting that there is a possibility of the Democrats winning a majority of the House of Representatives in 1922. Far from it. Out of 435 members of the House there are now 301 Republicans and 132 Democrats. The House is Republican by more than two to one. In the preceding congress there were 230 Republicans and 190 Democrats in the House, a majority of 40 as compared with the present majority of 169.

"In the election of 1920 many districts went Republican for the first time in history, but by a narrow margin. Quite likely we shall lose some of these if the Democrats put up candidates who are reasonably acceptable. The Republicans do not and will not concede any particular district, but any man familiar with the ups and downs of politics knows that districts carried in such elections at that of 1920 cannot be held indefinitely. Many Democrats merely stayed at home on election day, and if they go to the polls in 1922, their strength will be sufficient to change the result.

"It is the manifest purpose of the Democratic campaign managers to pave the way for an assertion next November that a reduction of the Republican majority in the House is a repudiation of the Republican administration. There will very likely be a reduction, but it will not be a disapproval of the Republican administration. Prior to the election of 1918, the Democrats had 216 Representatives and the Republicans 219, a Democratic majority of 6. In the campaign of 1918 President Wilson issued a strong personal appeal for the election of a Democratic majority as a vote of confidence in him as the spokesman of the nation. The result was a Republican victory with a majority of 48 members in the House. That was a repudiation of the Democratic party and could not be otherwise construed.

There is, in fact, but one way to ascertain the actual sentiment of the people of the country, and that is by computing the total popular vote. It is possible, but not probable, that one party might have a majority in the House but the opposite party poll the largest popular vote. In general, however, the political complexion of the majority in the House may be taken as an accurate indication of the political preferences of a majority of the people. It is our guess that the Republican majority will not fall below that of 1919, 1920 when we had a lead of 48 members."

WELL DONE!

The angel of Peace, hovering over Washington today, when the great conference concluded its labors, may be imagined as taking up again the song of the herald angels whose "Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, goodwill toward men" has been the grateful chant of Christendom for centuries.

Well done, President Harding! This conference, lofty in its purpose and marvelous in its results, rested upon what might be called the Warren G. Harding Foundation. The President was its initiator, its kindly and skillful promoter and its chief representative in the eyes of the world, as he will be in the world's history. What an ennobling office to fill!

Well done, Secretary Hughes! Mr. Hughes has been the chief formulator of the international pact, the embodiment of its agreement of its agreement and comprehensiveness.

Well done, American delegation! But such statesmen as Elihu Root and Senators Lodge and Underwood could do nothing ill.

Well done, Britain! Mr. Balfour has been a capable lieutenant of Mr. Lloyd-George in the "hands across the sea" tableau.

Well done, France! With most to forgive and most to be taken on trust, the will to forget and the will to confide have been magnanimous.

Well done, countries of the Orient! You have caught with adequate spirit the possibilities and therefore the duty of making lines of railroad other than lines of battle.

Well done, all who have sat about the Round Table of hope! It can hardly yet be compassed by the mind, how the wings of war have been clipped and the shelter of peace has been enlarged.

But it may well be the pride of America that in the centennial year of Grant she has given wider tongue and brought an answer response to his petition: "Let us have peace!"—Troy Times.

FOUR YEARS WOULD HAVE SETTLED ROADS.

Former Director General of Railroads McAdoo takes pride in the record he made while at the head of the country's transportation system. He calls attention to the fact that when the roads were turned back to their owners they possessed 2,006 more locomotives, 16,815 more freight cars, and 1,051 more passenger cars than when they were taken over. He neglects to mention the fact that practically every item on the list was paid for equipment trust notes turned over to the Government by the railroads. Mr. McAdoo charges that "the credit of the railroads was destroyed before the war," in attempted refutation of the charge that he had anything to do with their financial troubles. But that fact did not deter him from enormously increasing the costs of operation. That would have accomplished the complete wrecking of the roads had they been allowed to continue in effect. Had Mr. McAdoo's policies been followed for four years instead of two, the transportation systems of the country would have ceased to operate unless the Federal Treasury had assumed the constantly mounting deficits.

UNCLE TED'S
BED-TIME STORIES.

"But Uncle Ted, I don't see why I can't work on it for awhile. I went to bed awful early last night. It was Jack complaining about it. He wanted to work on his radio outfit in the attic which was the pride of his life. However, Uncle Ted had another view of the matter.

"Look here, Jack," said Uncle Ted. "Your mother told me to begin with that I couldn't keep you kiddies up late tonight with a story so if you want a story you had better start getting ready for bed and I'll talk at the same time."

"Oh, all right," said Jack, "but I'll bet I work on that radio tomorrow night."

"Don't be too sure," commented Ruth, as she tucked at her dress. "Tomorrow night is another time. Let's not worry about that now," said Uncle Ted as he sat down on the edge of Jack's bed.

"Talking about your radio outfit reminds me of what President Harding has asked Secretary of Commerce Hoover to accomplish. The development of radio has grown so rapidly that few people have realized how far reaching it really is, even now. The army has its radio, the navy its radio, the postoffice department, the department of commerce, and so on down the line of the government departments. Then there are dozens of private radio concerns running just as telephone companies are run, a truly commercial business. In addition to these agencies there are the thousands of amateur radio enthusiasts like you, Jack, who are filling the air with messages and receiving them according to the strength of their outfit. President Harding realizes that anything as important as radio, especially since it is growing so rapidly, must be controlled to a certain extent, and that a policy should be worked out by the government for its regulation just as other similar agencies are regulated. In addition to this regulation, necessary at all times, it is highly important that the radio system of the country, governmental, commercial, and amateur be upon such a basis as to be available and efficient as a means of national defense.

"With all this in mind, President Harding, at a recent cabinet meeting, directed Secretary Hoover to call a conference of experts in the various government departments, with others from commercial life and scientific men, to consider to what extent the government should go in its control of radio waves, their length, etc. Considerable work was done in this matter some time ago and was held up on account of the arms conference. What is believed to be the policy fairly well agreed upon, is that the idea of a department of national defense shall be established and that this department as one of its important duties will have control of a right way in all radio communication at all times."

"Do you mean they will make me quit using my outfit?" asked Jack, with a long face.

"No, indeed, Jack. Uncle Sam will want you and all others to go ahead and develop radio communication. Capital will be encouraged to aid in this development but it will all be under strict governmental regulations. The government program will draw a sharp line between the civil and military radio service. When a policy is finally worked out the operation and regulation will undoubtedly be separated. The actual regulation will, it is believed, continue by the Department of Commerce through a system of licensing the wave lengths.

"I wonder if you realize, Jack, the wonderful future in radio, in the opinion of many experts the possibilities are practically unlimited. The biggest future, it would seem to me, would be in the communication with ships at sea; the communication with out of the way parts of the country; with airplanes in flight and, last and biggest, the communication across the ocean. This wonderful invention has gone steadily forward and very few people realize its possibilities. That is why it is one of the most important domestic matters upon which a policy must be decided at this time. Just stop and think for a minute what radio could do if it were organized to a high point of efficiency with a network of stations throughout the country. When the terrible flood broke last year in Colorado and all means of communication were severed think what radio could have done in speeding up help. When great floods, fires, hurricanes, strikes, riots, or other catastrophes occur, the ordinary means of long communication, telephone and telegraph are put out of use because of broken and tangled or cut wires. Radio has no wires and would prove valuable beyond measure.

"President Harding's interest in this communication problem is another demonstration of the up-to-the-minute activities of the present administration. As soon as one thing has been accomplished that is truly his, he does not sleep. He goes ahead with something else. As Senator Lodge said at a recent dinner in Boston, the Republicans found 'the worst situation economically which any part in this country has ever been called upon to face, and we have a right to be proud of our record. The Democrats by every artifice of delay and then waiting, have done their best to make this Congress a do-nothing body, and, although they have failed, they are keeping on saying it just the same!'"

SCHOOL CHILDREN EAT
TOO LITTLE, FIGURES SHOW

Records Indicate Pittsburgh Children Are Underfed From Eating Wrong Foods.

Washington, D. C. — Pittsburgh children are probably no exception to the general rule, but happen to have been the basis for experiments conducted in the metropolis of steel to determine how far underfeeding is the result of poverty and how much the result of eating the wrong foods.

Examinations of scholars in schools in Pittsburgh's better class residence sections disclose that from 10 to 15 per cent. of boys and girls are undernourished. There are more undernourished girls than boys.

Medical authorities state that where food is plentiful and undernourishment is present, it must come either from eating the wrong kind of food or from some correctable physical condition which prevents the digestive functions from working properly. Children who eat too much candy eat too little of more flesh-forming and less energy-forming foods, and those who suffer from poor or ill-cared for teeth, inflamed tonsils, adenoids or anemia must have the wrong condition corrected before any feeding with any kind of food can bring them up to

In this "small" right over the hips? That's the home of backache.

If it's caused by weak kidneys, Use Doan's Kidney Pills.

Maysville people testify to their worth. Read a case of it:

Mrs. R. L. Mattingly, 207 West Second street, Maysville, says: "I was in a bad condition with my back and kidneys. I couldn't get my proper rest at night owing to the dull misery in my back. I was feeling so miserable I often had to let my housework go undone. I was dizzy by spells and also suffered from rheumatic pains. I have been so bad that I couldn't walk without pushing a chair in front of me and my lower limbs were very painful. My kidneys were in a bad condition owing to their irregular action. My mother had used Doan's Kidney Pills successfully and that led me to send to Wood & Son's Drug Store and get a couple boxes. After using them I was all right. I have felt well since using Doan's and recommend them gladly."

New York Letter

by Lucy Jeanne Price

New York. — They are going to take Mahomet to the mountain. The Third Business Man will have Art brought to his very threshold door here in Manhattan. On the suggestion of a downtown broker that more business men of means would be willing to speculate in the work of American artists if the artists' products were more available to them during business hours, nine men are to open a gallery to be hung with the work of Americans only, at 11 Broad street, in the heart of the downtown commercial district. "People are just beginning to realize in this country that artists cannot live on hunches," explained Frank M. Moore, one of the leaders in the movement. "I was talking this over with a business man. He told me that if the artists didn't do all their exhibiting way up town where he and his friends never got a look at it, they might get interested enough to invest in the pictures. The Downtown Art Gallery is the result."

Man is going to have a difficult time hereafter being impressive here in New York where he becomes jocular about the quantity and insubstantiality of woman's conversation. Young John Errol Fye, Jr., who ran up a bill of $132 at the McAlpin hotel just in telephoning has crumpled the style forever of that kind of joke.

Ice rink tea parties are the correct thing this season. Maybe it's the effect of the war—as they tell us everything else is—but anyway, we certainly have increased our tea-drinking most tremendously in these past few years; and this winter, it is quite the thing to see stentorian tea cups regaling ice-skaters.

The first radio telephone broadcasting station in America to operate on a purely commercial basis will be erected shortly as a result of a permit granted to the American Telephone and Telegraph Company to erect a gigantic station on the roof of its building here. It will distribute news, programs of music, advertising matter, and so forth, to all who contract for this service on a commercial basis. The building on which the station is to be erected is 350 feet high and the towers supporting the antennae will be 100 feet higher still.

"Sally," Florence Ziegfeld's musical comedy production at the New Amsterdam Theater, has broken a lot of records with the passing of its sixty-first week of performance. In sixty consecutive weeks it has been seen by 964,000 persons, which means standing room as well as every seat filled in practically every performance. This surpasses the attendance of any musical comedy in the history of theatricians, they say. Admittance receipts are over $2,000,000. The three stars, Marilyn Miller, Leon Errol and Walter Catlett, earning over $440,000. The chorus girls have averaged $55 a week, and the government has taken in $200,000 in taxes.

Chi is convinced that the American mind and the American method are all too literal. Chi is attached to the Chinese legation in Washington and he decided that it would be worth his while to study American prisons. With that object in view, he suggested to Sheriff Nagle, whom he knew well, that the sheriff arrest him. He did—all too thoroughly. He put Chi in a cell without argument. Then he handcuffed him. Then he took him out and joined him up with a lot of crooks and sent him to Sing Sing that way. Chi protested but the protesting got him nothing. He went to Sing Sing and he spent the night there, not at all as he had planned in any particular. The American sense of humor, he measures his friends, is sadly overrated.

It is confusing when one tries to be conscientious and dutiful and patriotic and all that, to be told so many conflicting things one must do. Take the thrift campaign, for instance. Just when I got all agitated to the point of deciding that I could get along without spring hat in order to live up to its precept, the National Prosperity Bureau came along and insisted that we couldn't get back to normalcy and prosperity if we refused to spend any money. They point out that if we don't buy things, no one will be employed to make them; which sounds reasonable. And if no one is employed to make them—well, we all know the rest of the story. But now, what shall I do—buy a new hat and credit it to my patriotism on the "busy factory wheels" side of the ledger, or go without it and credit to the thrift side? and let the unemployed go hang, I suppose.

UNEMPLOYMENT HAS NOT DECREASED SO GREATLY

Investigations of President's Unemployment Conference Shows Many Reports Were Exaggerated.

"Reports too this office from widely scattered localities indicate that the falling off in employment has not been so great as most people had anticipated," says a bulletin sent out today by Col. Arthur Woods, of the President's Conference on Unemployment, to Mayors of all cities of more than 20,000. He adds: "If general business conditions keep on about the same until spring, doubtless the situation will depend largely upon the severity of the winter. There is no doubt but that the manner in which cities throughout the country generally have organized to meet the emergency, has had and will continue to have a very strong and mitigating effect. If it had not been for this potent factor, those best fitted to know are inclined to think that there would have been, before now, many serious situations."

Many cities report that they are appropriating funds in addition to the regular budget, to relieve distress by furnishing employment. Work that otherwise would be delayed until spring or early summer has been started at once.

Buffalo has set aside $70,000 for groceries and other necessities for the relief of 1,113 families. Detroit is lending out emergency funds $1,750,000 as necessity arises, to applicants for relief, some of whom return it in work performed for the city. Kansas

"SHAME" A BEAUTIFUL STORY OF THE SNOW FIELDS.

William Fox who produced "Over the Hill," offers a wonderful picture play in presenting "Shame," which features John Gilbert and Rosemary Theby. A super-production made in the Alaska snow fields. This is a dramatic story of a man who, after he had married into an old family, is told he is a half-caste. See the wife trailing through the snow-drifts of Alaska, the fierce fight with the wolves of the north, see the sensational scene, where a fierce wolf enters a cabin and a man fights the beast with his bare hands.

GROSS INCOME IS THE BASIS OF FILING RETURNS

Every Person Whose Gross Income Is $5,000 Or Over Must File Return for Income Tax.

Numerous inquiries have been received regarding the proper interpretation of Section 223 of the Revenue Act of 1921, which provides that each individual whose gross income for 1921 was $5,000 or over shall file a return regardless of his or her net income.

Gross income means statutory gross income, defined by the revenue act to include "gains, profits and income derived from salaries, wages, or compensation for personal service" of whatever kind and in whatever form paid, or from professions, vocations, trades, business, commerce or sales or dealings in property, whether real or personal, growing out of the ownership or use of or interest in such property; also from interest rent, dividends, securities or the transaction of any business carried on for gain or profit or gains or profits and income derived from any source whatever."

Gross income does not necessarily mean gross receipts. A merchant, for instance, in computing statutory gross income, should deduct therefrom the cost of goods sold. For example, a merchant may have gross receipts amounting to $10,000 but the cost of goods sold amounts to $7,500. He has no other income. The statutory gross income would be $2,500. In case the other deductions allowed him for business expenses, taxes, interest, had debts, etc., amount to $2,500, his net income would be $500. No return of income is required in this case.

A lawyer who is married and living with his wife has gross receipts in the form of fees amounting to $4,000 and his necessary business expenses amount to $4,200, leaving a net income of only $1,800. A return will be required in this case, as taxpayer's gross income as well as gross receipts is $5,000.

STATE SENATE PASSES FILM CENSORSHIP BILL

Measure, Creating Board to Pass On Movies, Wins By Vote of 24 to 5.

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 21. — The Senate today passed the bill to create a State Board of Moving Picture Censors by a vote of 24 to 5.

Sensors W. A. Perry, Democrat, and T. B. Watts, Republican, of Louisville, were two who opposed it.

The board would consist of three members and would be under the supervision of the Department of Education. The censors would receive $3,000 a year. Fees would be charged for censoring to meet the expenses. The chief advocate was Senator William Brock of Harlan.

"It is the duty of the state to look out for the welfare of its children," Mr. Brock said.

"This measure is for the boys and girls of Kentucky and every member of this body should help me carry the fight for clean moving pictures to a successful conclusion."

Senator William Perry offered an amendment to exempt films which had been censored in other states, but it was defeated.

Opposition to the measure was voiced by Senator B. T. Davis, who declared that "the public are good enough censors."

Have your suit "Needle Moulded" to your measurements and description by The Globe Tailoring Co., of Cincinnati. Their representative will be at George H. Frank & Co., on February 27th and 28th. 14Feb10t

INFLUENZA AND WEAK BLOOD

Take Gude's Pepto-Mangan — It Builds Rich Red Blood.

No matter how well you usually are, if temporarily you're run down, you're a target for the influenza.

Contagion always gets listless people first. Whether they realize it or not, their blood is thin and undernourished—in no condition to fight off the germs it meets everywhere.

Take a good tonic at this time of danger—some well-known builder of red, vigorous blood, like Pepto-Mangan.

Take no unnecessary chances. Pepto-Mangan is an effective blood builder that has had the endorsement of physicians for years.

Pepto-Mangan is sold by druggists in either liquid or tablet form. There is no difference in medicinal value. Ask for Gude's Pepto-Mangan and be sure the name is on the package. —Advertisement.

KING VIDOR DIRECTS BIG PRODUCTION.

Thousands of movie fans who have admired King Vidor's work on account of his distinctive ability in transcribing emotions from life to the motion picture screen, will have a new sensation when they see his latest work, "The Sky Pilot." They will witness therein several of the most thrilling moments that have ever been enacted before the eyes of the motion picture camera.

Perhaps the most spectacular scene in "The Sky Pilot" depicts a cattle stampede in which 4000 head of cattle are pictured in a mad onrush toward the helpless figure of the little ranch girl who has been thrown from her horse. How the bravery of the sky pilot averts almost certain death for the girl is a scene that will be permanently retained in the memory of movie fans.

"The Sky Pilot," which will be seen at the Washington Theater Friday is released by Associated First National Exhibitors, Inc., and is a Catharine Curtis Production.

BASIC CAUSES OF UNEMPLOYMENT STUDIED

Special Commission Is Named By Unemployment Conference to Study Underlying Causes.

The fundamentals of unemployment and control of the business cycle are to be the subjects of a thorough investigation by a special committee of the President's Conference on Unemployment, selected at a meeting in the Department of Commerce. Owen D. Young, vice president, General Electric Company, New York, was named chairman. Joseph H. DeForest, president, Chamber of Commerce, U. S. A., Clarence Mott Woolley, president, American Radiator Co., New York; Matthew Wolf, vice president, American Federation of Labor, and Miss Mary Van Kleeck, Russell Sage foundation, New York, are the other members of the committee. Edward Eyre Head, secretary of the president's conference on unemployment, was appointed secretary of the new committee, and Wesley C. Mitchell of New York, field director of the study.

The committee is to report to the president's conference on unemployment and the public in about six months.

The following were among those present in addition to the committee members: John B. Andrews, secretary, American Association for Labor Legislation, New York; Miss Anna Bezanon, assistant director department of industrial research, University of Pennsylvania, Philadelphia; Ellet H. Goodwin, vice president, U. S. Chamber of Commerce; Vernon Kellogg, national research council, Washington, D. C.; Samuel McCune Lindsay, Columbia University, New York; John C. Merriam, Carnegie Institution of Washington, D. C.; Seamon F. Northrup, Director, Bureau of Industrial Relations, New York; Joseph H. Whittle, University of Pennsylvania, Philadelphia.
